
National War Memorial Park

The National War Memorial Park in Wellington is being developed as the Government's key project to mark the centenary of the Gallipoli landing in the First World War.

Greenwood Roche advised the Ministry for Culture & Heritage on the land and construction aspects of the National War Memorial Park (Pukeahu) project, to be completed for the ANZAC day commemorations in 2015.

Specialist Expertise

Public law
Construction and infrastructure projects
Property & real estate

Key lawyers involved

Jeannie Warnock
Julian Smith